Learn about survival by talking about actual airplane crashes and what the pilots did to survive in the wilderness and get rescued. Rob will share the lessons learned from both his own experience and from interviewing many other pilots who have been in airplane accidents. You will learn what worked and what did not, so that if you ever need to spend an unexpected night in the wilderness, you will be better prepared. You will learn about putting together a survival kit of your own and the serious limitations of some of the most commonly carried survival equipment. We will also discuss the latest emergency survival equipment and how it has already saved lives.

Directions: Westminster Business College, Gore Auditorium
